HELD STEADYOther Markets Were Lower—
Light Receipts Held It There.

TOP PRICE WAS $7.85

Cattle Supply Was Fair for a Monday.

The supply of hogs on the market yesterday was pretty fair for a Monday. These times of general light receipts. Other markets were quoted lower, but probably owing to the light supply the market here was about steady. Cudahy got nearly all the hogs and his buyer said they cost as much as his purchases last Saturday. There were no top hogs among the offerings, except one bunch of wagon deliveries. Medium weight mixed hogs sold for $7.75 and $7.80, the former for common and the latter for good. All the offerings were sold, but one lot came in after the buyers had left the yards, and they were held over. There is no regular time for closing, and the buyers usually stay as long as they can hear of any hogs coming.

The receipts of cattle yesterday were good for Monday. There were several car loads of range cattle on the market, but the owners refused all bids, and they were shipped out in first hands. The market was $1 to $1.50 lower for common cows and a shade lower on stockers and feeders.

SHIPPERS AND NOTES.

Hogs might have sold a little lower yesterday if there had been more of them on the market.

People up at the Union stock yards yesterday realized that summer is here. The thermometer in the scale yards marked 81 degrees in the shade.

Mr. Dold has a car load of hogs and mules to Red Rock, Oklahoma, yesterday. They were bought here and he had some good stock.

Shippers who had stock on the market yesterday were: Ed Wedline, of Augusta; E. S. Kerley, of Peck; O. S. Yazel, of Furber; W. B. Johnson, of Enid; and A. H. Hufschmidt, of Lawrence. First Dold staked off the packing house grounds yesterday, and a force of men commenced digging post holes. He is going to put a palting fence eight feet high around the entire force included in the packing house grounds. He has seven buildings which will be turned loose in the grounds when the fence is completed. The dogs will be put in a corral during the day and turned loose at night. Fred Dold says if any man mauls around that packing house at night he will make dog meat, sure.

Colonel Garrett, buyer for the Armour Packing company, went to Kansas City last Saturday, and he did not get back yesterday until the market was closed, but that did not make any difference, because Cudahy wanted all the hogs, anyhow.

Now that Fred Dold is putting a high fence around the packing house grounds it would be a good thing if the stock yards company would build an elevated sidewalk on the east side so that people could get to the stock yards from Twenty-first street without swimming when Chisholm creek is not big enough to hold the water.

Ed Wedline, of Augusta, was on the yards yesterday for the first time in several weeks. He generally keeps right along buying and sends his hogs in. Mr. Wedline has great faith in the weather prophets, and he pays attention to what they say. One of them lives in Butler county, and last spring he told Ed not to plant any corn this year, because there was going to be a drought that would rot the corn in the shade. Mr. Wedline went right to work and put out 320 acres of corn, and now he thinks he will have to rent some ground to crib his corn. When the weather prophets tell Ed Wedline what to do, he goes and does the other thing and he always hits it. Some people think he is lucky, but Ed says it is a simple business proposition.

COLLAPSE OF
CORN CORNERSudden Drop of Five and One-Half Cents on July.

EVERYTHING GOES DOWN

September Wheat 3-4 Down and Oats 1-4 Cents Off.

Chicago, July 14.—Heavy movement in corn held the attention of grain speculators today and brought slumps all around. July corn continues its display of pyrotechnics of late week, although today it looked like the falling stick, instead of the rocket's flight. Everything on 'change was bearish but in the general decline the sudden drop of 5½¢ in July corn was most important and caused talk of an end of the corner. Closing losses were 5¢ for July corn, 4½¢ for September corn, 4¢ for September wheat and 1½¢ for September oats. Provisions closed 2½¢ lower to 7½¢ higher. It was a big drop in July corn and the bulls tried to give several reasons for the decline. Probably the true cause was that corn in generous supply is moving toward Chicago at a rapid rate. Ever since the talk of a corner in July options elevators and cash handlers have been busy making contract grade corners with their utmost energy. Today the bulls had to face receipts of 472 cars, 113 of which were contract grade. In addition to this private elevators made and put out 27 cars and 119,000 bushels, a total of over half a million bushels of contract stuff. The good weather of the last few days was just the sort to help in grading and with the reported estimates of 95 cars for tomorrow, which would probably be augmented to over 1,000 cars by private houses, the crowd led by the elevator people, sold to a man. There was also a disposition to believe that the board of trade directors would stipulate a marginal price for corn, so that both long and shorts could be called heavily. If such action is taken by the board tomorrow it is thought it will work against the corner. Nearby trading was light, but of a bearish cast. When the estimate sheets were posted July was sold liberally. Every sale had to be made at good concessions to the buyers and from 50¢ the cornered option foundered and slumped to 2½¢. September was weak on the general rush of corn to market and opening a shade to 4½¢ lower than Saturday at 61½¢, declined, though gradually, and closed weak, 59½¢ lower at 61¢. July rallied a little from its bottom price, but closed very weak, with a loss of 5¢ at 56¢.

Wheat ruled weak after a momentary firmness at the opening on prospects of rain. Cables were lower in Liverpool. Paris was closed and receipts showed a heavy percentage of new wheat. The visible supply increased 68,000 bushels, against a decrease of only 2,000,000 bushels last year. These influences, together with those attendant upon the corn bear and reports of a few showers in several western states, the crowd began selling freely and September wheat, which opened a shade lower to 4½¢ higher at 73½¢, declined steadily as the session advanced. January receipts were fairly large at 88,000 bushels, against 15,000 bushels last year. Local receipts were 30 cars, six of contract grade and 24 of new stuff. Minneapolis and Duluth received 534 cars, making a total for the three points of 827 cars, against 1,598 cars last week and 644 a year ago. World shipments were 71,500 bushels, against 5,530 bushels last week and 7,520,000 bushels a year ago. Receipts for the week decreased 2,300 bushels. Seaboard shipments in wheat and flour equalled 462,000 bushels. The estimate of 30 cars for tomorrow was received bearishly.

Oats had something of a set-back today as a result of free offering by farmers of the new oats in order to take advantage of high prices. Offerings in Illinois were particularly liberal according to the reports. Favorable weather over Sunday and a general improvement in crop prospects precipitated selling. September sold off over 10¢, selling as high as 23¢ at the opening and closing weak, 21½¢ down at 22¢. Receipts were 57 cars.

Provisions were rather quiet, but held up well in the face of a weak hog market. Lard was inherently strong and added to the price of the lot. The outside bought early but both pork and ribs lost most of their advances. September pork closed 2½¢ lower at 15½¢, September lard 1½¢ at 11½¢, after a shade higher at 11½¢ and September ribs a shade higher at 10½¢ and 10½¢.

Estimated receipts tomorrow: Wheat, 500 cars; corn, 55 cars; oats, 125 cars; hogs, 20,000 head.
